

ARTHUR J. JELINEK

19 July 1928 – 10 January 2022

Professional Vita

Degrees:

B.A. University of New Mexico (Anthropology) 1952

M.A. University of Michigan (Anthropology) 1955

Ph.D. University of Michigan (Anthropology) 1960

Military Service: U. S. Marine Corps 1946-1948

Research and Academic Positions:

Field Research Assistant, Museum of Paleontology, University of Michigan, summer, 1954

Research Assistant, Museum of Anthropology, University of Michigan, 1954-1956

Teaching Fellow, Department of Anthropology, University of Michigan, 1956-1957

Research Assistant, Project on Natural Radioactivity of Prehistoric Materials, University of Michigan, summers 1957, 1958

Logan Museum Teaching Fellow, Beloit College, Beloit, Wisconsin, 1957-1958

Assistant Professor of Anthropology, University of Chicago, 1958-1961

Assistant Professor of Anthropology, University of Michigan, 1961-1963

Associate Professor of Anthropology, University of Michigan, 1963-1967

Curator of Archaeology, Museum of Anthropology, University of Michigan, 1961-1967

Professor of Anthropology, University of Arizona, 1967-1993

Professor Emeritus, University of Arizona, June 1993-January 2022

Field and Research Experience:

University of New Mexico, Advanced Field Party in Archaeology, summer 1950, Jemez and Capitan Mountains, New Mexico

University of New Mexico, Advanced Field Party (Crew Chief), summer 1951, Capitan Mountains, New Mexico

University of Michigan, Museum of Paleontology Field Party (Research Assistant), summer 1954, Pliocene-Pleistocene Vertebrate Paleontology, Southern High Plains

University of Michigan, Museum of Anthropology, summer 1956, February-March, 1957, led field party for archaeological research in Pecos Valley and on Llano Estacado, New Mexico

University of Chicago, Department of Anthropology, summer 1960, directed archaeological survey in Pecos Valley, New Mexico

University of Michigan, Museum of Anthropology

Summer 1963. Participated for 1½ months in excavations at Combe Grenal (Mousterian and Late Acheulian levels) under direction of Prof. François Bordes. For shorter periods excavated at Caminade (Early Aurignacian levels) with Mme. D. de Sonneville-Bordes, studied L. and M. Paleolithic typology at Prof. Bordes' laboratory in Bordeaux and visited prehistoric sites and excavations in southwest France and northern Spain.

March through June, 1964. Supervisor of excavations at early village site of Cayonu Tepesi, near Ergani, Diyarbakir, Turkey for the Joint Prehistoric Project of the University of Chicago and the University of Istanbul (with partial sponsorship of Center for Near Eastern and North African Studies). Also conducted brief survey (approx. 3 weeks) in cooperation with University of Istanbul Laboratory of Prehistory on Asiatic side of Bosphorus; located 13 Lower and Middle Paleolithic sites.

November 23-28, 1964. Invited participant in the Lithic Technology Conference at Les Eyzies (Dordogne), France sponsored by the National Science Foundation and the Université de Bordeaux I, with specialists in lithic technology and analysis from the United States, Canada, and France.

January-June, 1967. Directed archaeological survey in the Mimbres Valley and adjacent areas in southwest New Mexico.

University of Arizona, Department of Anthropology, and University of Michigan Museum of Anthropology

Summers 1967-1972. Director, Tabun Excavation Project, at Tabun Cave on Mount Carmel, near Haifa, Israel. Five seasons of excavation, one season (1972) minor field research and laboratory research. Field aspect of project completed 1972.

University of Arizona, Department of Anthropology

Fall, 1973. Study of collections from Tabun and related sites in eight institutions in the U.S. and Canada. Spring, 1974, study of collections from Tabun and related sites in nine institutions in France, Germany, England, and Scotland with brief periods of travel to prehistoric sites in these countries.

June-July, 1976. Invited member of University of Arizona Delegation to People's Republic of China. Travel to Zhou-kou-dian Pleistocene localities near Beijing and to Pan P'o neolithic site near Xi'an. Visits to museums in Beijing, Nanjing, Xi'an, Shanghai, and Guangzhou. Discussions with colleagues at Institute of Vertebrate Paleontology and Paleoanthropology and Institute of Archaeology in Beijing and at Universities in Beijing, Xi'an, and Guangzhou. Total of 18 days in PRC.

March-April, 1979. Examination and recording of collections from Qafzeh Cave site at laboratory of M. B. Vandermeersch at Université de Paris. Examination and recording of complete flakes from 5 layers at Combe Grenal site in Institut du Quaternaire, Université de Bordeaux I. Brief reconnaissance of Dordogne area near Pech de l'Azé and Combe Grenal sites. April-May, 1979. Examination of collections from Tabun excavation at Haifa University and examination of current profiles in excavation. Examination and recording of Middle Paleolithic collections from sites of Qafzeh, Amud, and Kebara at Rockefeller Museum and Hebrew University, Jerusalem.

May-July, 1981. Examination of collections from Paleolithic sites of Combe Grenal; Pech de l'Azé, I, II, and IV; Roc de Combe; and Orgnac III. Descriptive and metric recording of attributes of complete flakes from the deep stratified sections at these sites in order to identify chronological trends in this aspect of the industries. Working with one assistant measured and recorded approximately 8000 flakes from about 30 stratigraphic contexts. Brief visits to other collections and sites, including Niaux and Ambrona.

June-July, 1983. Visits to sites and museums in France to study collections. Conferences with colleagues in Paris, Bordeaux, and Lyon regarding possibilities for a new Middle Paleolithic excavation.

June-August 1984. Conferences in Paris and Bordeaux regarding the new excavations to be undertaken at the Middle Paleolithic site of La Quina (Charente). Work at the site with André Debénath, Co-Director of the project, to measure profile, plan scaffold, and other arrangements (housing, laboratory, etc.). Brief reconnaissance and excavation in Couze Valley with colleagues. Study of collections at Musée de l'Homme in Paris.

May-June 1985. Co-Director with Dr. André Debénath of Cooperative Excavation Project of University of Arizona and Université de Bordeaux I at Middle Paleolithic site of La Quina (Charente), France. Completion of first season of preparation of site, mapping, erection of scaffold, photographic documentation of profile, and initial excavation.

May-August, 1986-1994. Co-Director of excavations at Middle Paleolithic site of La Quina (Charente), France. Eight full seasons of excavation and operation of field laboratory. One season (1990) of laboratory research.

May-August, 1995-1998. Laboratory recording and analysis of lithic collections from the La Quina excavation at Laubertie Field Laboratory (Charente) France.

1999-2012. Analysis of data and preparation of the monograph on the La Quina lithic industries.

Professional Papers:

About 60 delivered at national and international meetings of professional societies and symposia since 1957

Professional Societies:

Society for American Archaeology
American Association for the Advancement of Science (Fellow, Gold Life Member)
Society of Vertebrate Paleontology
International Union for Quaternary Research (INQUA)
Society of Africanist Archaeologists in America
Archaeological Institute of America
American Quaternary Association
Paleoanthropology Society

Honorary Societies:

Sigma Xi National Scientific Honorary
Phi Sigma National Biological Honorary

Honors and Awards:

University of Arizona Social and Behavioral Sciences Research Institute Research Professorship, Spring 1985 (first term of awards)
Burlington-Northern Faculty Achievement Award for Teaching Excellence, 1985 (first year of awards at University of Arizona)
J. S. Guggenheim Fellow, 1987-1988
Raymond H. Thompson Award for Contributions to Anthropology, Department of Anthropology, University of Arizona 2006 (first award)
