As an acclaimed director, dramaturge and translator, Stefan Sablic explores contemporary theatrical trends with a persistent search for innovation.

Stefan is the founder of Shira uTfila. Shira u’tfila combines music from Sefardi, Spanish, Hebrew, Turkish, Arabic, Greek and South of the Balkans. They perform in several languages: Ladino, Hebrew, Serbian, Turkish and Greek. Since its creation, the band was mainly involved in projects related to religious music, and then specialized in the musical Sefardi traditions of the Balkans. And Stefan is also the Director of the Jewish Community Center in Belgrade.
